

Financial mathematics: models and statistical models

Manuel L. Esquível

New University of Lisbon, Portugal

Abstract

We welcome papers discussing models for pricing contingent claims in complete and incomplete markets as well as statistical methods useful for estimation and calibration of these models.